NUMB. 3216

FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1744.

Hamburgh, August 29.

WE are very much at a Loss what to think of the Affairs of the North. Last Year we were puzzled with the War, and now we are much in the Dark about Negotiations. We were told, not long ago, that there were some Differences arisen between the King and Prince of Sweden; but, upon enquiring closely into the Matter, we are satisfied there was no Foundation for it; and that the Circumstances which occasioned the Report, were, in reality, the strongest Proofs of its Falshood. In short, the Case came out to be this; the King and the Prince, in their late Progress, parted somewhat abruptly; which gave Rise to the Story. Such, however, as were well vers'd in the Manners of a Court, know, that Appearances are best observ'd where there is least of Affection. In this Case, it seems, these Princes were so cordial towards each other, as to forget Ceremonies. The King return'd hastily to Stockholm, on his receiving the News of the Treaty of Union in Germany; wherein, as Landgrave of Hesse-Cassel, he is a Party. The Chief of that League is the King of Prussia; the Prince Royal of Sweden has espous'd the Sister of the King of Prussia; a large Train of Artillery is casting in the Arsenal of Stockholm, for the Use of the King of Prussia; and it is believed, that a large Body of Troops are assembling there, which are either to enter into the Service, or are, at least, to act in Conjunction with those of the King of Prussia. All this looks, as if there was a great Union in Sentiment between his Majesty and his Royal Highness of Sweden; and we apprehend, that a Post or two will afford us some Transactions of Consequence, that may be brought to justify this Observation.

Dresden, August 25. It is certain, that his Majesty intends to assemble two very considerable Bodies of Troops; one of which is to encamp in the Neighbourhood of this City, and the other on the Frontiers of Bohemia; but that either Body of these Forces will enter into the Service of any other Potentate, in any Shape whatsoever, is very doubtful. Such as are most inclined to the House of Austria, believe, that no decisive Resolution will be taken, as to this important Affair, till it shall be seen what Turn Affairs will take in the Dyet of Grodno. His Majesty has sent a Minister of great Rank to Kiow, in order to be thoroughly satisfied as to the Disposition of the Czarina; not only with Regard to the Differences which have so long subsisted between the two Crowns, with Respect to their Frontiers, and the Affair of the Courland Election, but also in Regard to the Turn Things are like to take in Germany; where, in all human Probability, his Majesty will pursue the same Plan with that Princess, in order to render the Measures, he thinks it necessary to take, more effectual. In the mean time, it is said, that the Emperor is determined to send an extraordinary Embassy to Warsaw, with very advantageous Propositions to the King, our Sovereign, in case he is disposed to enter into the Treaty of Union.

Brussels, August 31. All our private Letters from the Empire say, that the Count de Seckendorff will infallibly march into Bavaria in the Beginning of next Month, with the Imperial Army. In order to countenance this Proceeding, the greatest Pains are taken at Franckfort to verify, by authentic Proofs, the carrying away of some Bavarian Families into Hungary; which, it is pretended, the Dyet will consider as a Violation of the Laws of the Empire. According to our last Advices from Italy, Prince Lobkowitz is like to make a better End of the Affair of Naples than most People expected, by the Means of the British Squadron; on board of which a considerable Body of Troops will embark, in order to land in that Province of the Kingdom which is most addicted to the Interest of the Queen, our Sovereign. A Rumour has prevailed here for some Days, as if some Project of the last Importance was under the Consideration of the Generals of the Allied Army, and on which it was necessary to take the Sense of their High Mightinesses; which does not appear to be absolutely without Foundation, since General Prætorius is arrived here from the Camp, in his Way to the Hague, charg'd, as we imagine, with some Commission of Consequence.

HOME PORTS.

Dover, August 29. Wind S. W. and blows hard. Yesterday Afternoon arrived the Duke of Cumberland, Clark, from London.

V. The HISTORY of the WORLD. By Sir Walter Raleigh, Knt. The Eleventh Edition. In Two Volumes Folio, printed from a Copy revised by the Author; with his Effigies, from an original Painting, curiously engraved by Mr. Vertue.

To which is prefixed the LIFE of the Author, newly compiled from Materials more ample and authentic than have yet been published. By Mr. OLDYS.

Sir Walter Raleigh's History of the World is a Work of so vast a Compass, such endless Variety, that no Genius, but one adventurous as his own, durst have undertaken that great Design. I do not apprehend any great Difficulty in collecting and common-placing an Universal History from the whole Body of Historians; that is nothing but mechanic Labour. But to direct the several Authors in his Mind, to take in all their Majesty, Strength, and Beauty, to raise the Spirit of meaner Historians, and to equal all the Excellencies of the best, is Sir Walter's peculiar Praise. His Style is the most perfect, the happiest, and most beautiful, of the Age he wrote in; majestic, clear, and manly; and he appears every where so superior, rather than unequal to his Subject, that the Spirit of Rome and Athens seems to be breathed into his Work.

Dr. ROBERT EATON'S
BALSAMICK STYPTICK,
Truly prepared and sold at the Doctor's late Dwelling House, now Mrs. DUTTON's, in Salisbury-Court, Fleet-street.

THIS Medicine restrains, in a most surprizing Manner, all internal as well as external Hemorrhages, i. e. it infallibly and quickly stops all dangerous Bleedings at the Nose or Gums, spitting or vomiting of Blood; also the immoderate Flux of the Hemorrhoids or Menses; bloody Urine or Stools, bleeding of large Wounds, &c. (if used according to the plain Directions given with it) as will appear by the Certificates of several Eminent Physicians, and in the large Account of this Medicine, written by the Doctor himself, and dedicated to the College of Physicians a little before his Death.

It keeps good for many Years, at Sea or on Shore, in all Climates; therefore must be universally Useful.

The Doctor not only obtaining his Majesty's Letters Patent for the sole Vending of this most Excellent Medicine; but also a Clause in a late Act of Parliament, exempting the Medicine from the Inspection of the Censors of the College of Physicians, to which all other Medicines are liable.

N. B. The late Learned Dr. CHEYNE, in his Excellent Piece, entitled The Natural Method of curing the Diseases of the Body, &c. prefers Eaton's Stypтick to Helvetius's Gold Stypticks; and speaks of it as follows: —— 'Every one knows the agglutinating Quality of sweet Blood, and I apprehend it is to this, that Eaton's Stypтick owes its mild, soldering Efficacy. —— It is more mild, fixidating and soft, than the mildest Steel Preparations, and more to patch a Hole, or glew up a Rupture, or to give a Ball to the acrid and inflam'd flowing Blood of the Patient. Says, he is confirmed in this by a Physician of great Worth and Candor, who has great Opportunities of dealing in such Cases, by his Practice in Midwifery. See p. 182.
